How the Course is Assessed:

There is no coursework in Sociology.

Students sit exams at the end of Year 12 and Year 13. AQA Sociology A-level is a linear course. AS or Year 12 helps you develop the key critical skills, thinking and social comprehension. Whereas as Year 13 allows you to practice these skills and complete your Sociological Imagination.

We focus particularly on how certain features of a person's social position (i.e. their gender, social class and ethnicity) might affect their LIFE CHANCES in society.

Sociology is regarded as a Social Science, largely because it uses a number of research methods to examine society in more detail.

A major part of gaining success in Sociology is by learning the main ideas, concepts and terms used – the language of the subject – and then being able to use this language when you are discussing the topics and issues relevant to the study of society.

What kind of Sociologist will you be?

What kind of Sociologist will you be?

Mostly A – Our Feminist

You are most likely to turn into our Feminist Sue Sharpe. Feminism looks at how society is structured in a way that benefits men while oppressing women – this is known as patriarchy (male domination.). The theory is often a misunderstood as stereotypes and misconceptions about it exists. Many people do not realise that there are several types of feminism such as black, radical feminism and liberal.

Mostly B – Our Marxist

You are most likely to turn into Karl Marx. Marxism looks at how society is constructed is a way that produces class conflict with the rich having all the power and control whilst the poor are oppressed. Marx argues that the root cause of class inequality is down to capitalism as it encourages people to be greedy and materialistic. Just as capitalism replaced feudalism, Marx argues that capitalism will one day be replaced with communism

Mostly C- Our Functionalist

You are most likely to turn into Emile Durkheim. Functionalism is theory which argues that members of society are united together by a shared set of idea and beliefs called 'norms' (normal behaviour.) These norms are accepted by all members in society and are enforced by structures such as family and education. They see society like a human body – with all parts needed in order for it to 'function' and work effectively.

Mostly D- Our interactionist

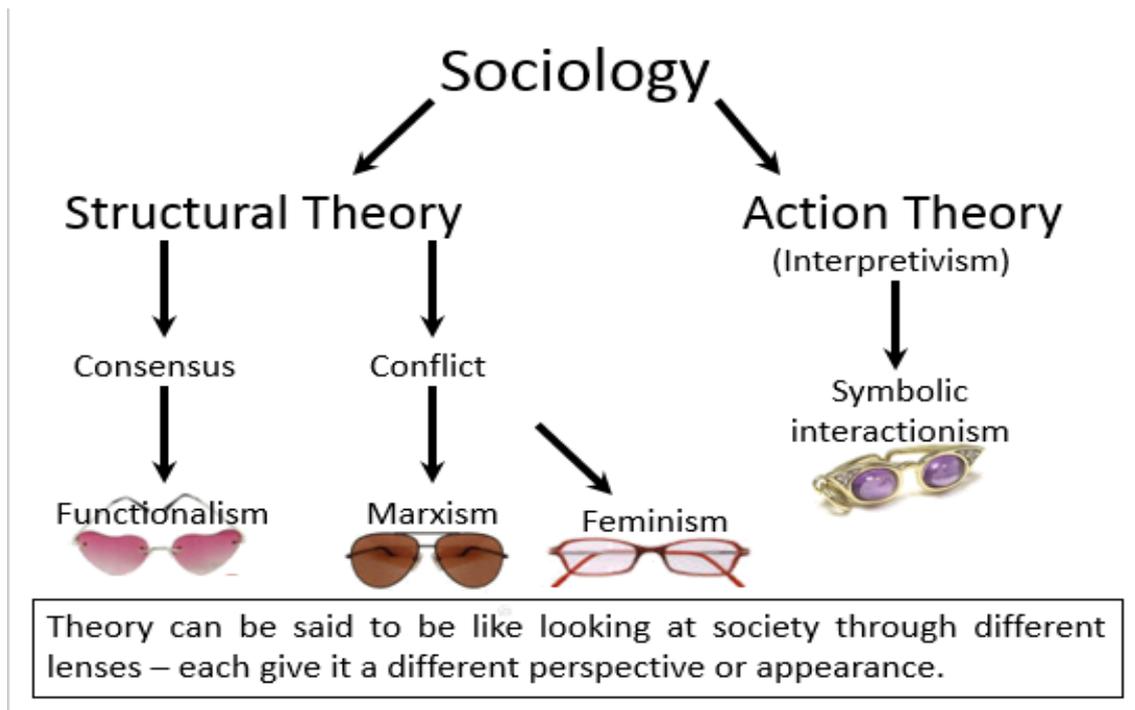

You are most likely to turn into Becker/ Mead. Interactionism looks at how people create meaning during social interactions, how they present and construct the self (or identity) as well as how they define situations. One of the perspectives key ideas is that people act the way they do because of how they define situations. Becker uses the example of nudity to illustrate how timing, place and audience can influence how people see an action or idea.

Mostly E – Our post-modernist

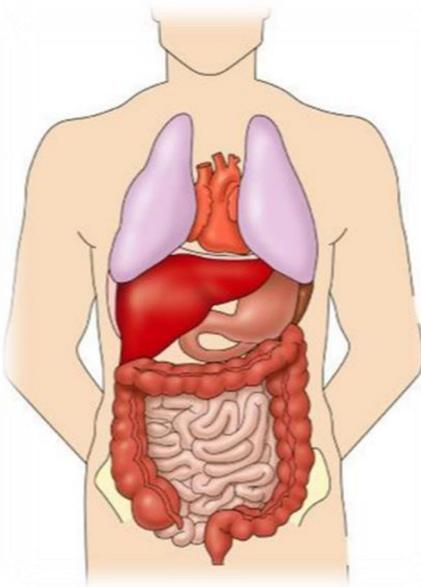

You are most likely to turn into Foucault. Post-modernism is a more recent Sociological theory which seeks to question and de-construct existing structures and understandings of reality. Post modernism rejects the idea that one theory such as functionalism, Utilitarianism, religion or even science can explain reality!

Theory is a big part of Sociology!

Task 1: Functional Functionalists...

1. Write Definitions for Free Will and Determinism.
2. Research Functionalism and produce a fact sheet outlining the “Organic Analogy
3. Do some further research on Functionalism
 - Write a paragraph on the strengths on the theory
 - Write another on the weaknesses of the theory

Task 2: Fiery Feminists...

everyday
sexism
project

1. Watch youtube clip: What is feminism? | A-Z of ISMSs Episode 6 - BBC Ideas – YouTube

Define all key words from the video clip.

2. Research Feminism and produce a fact sheet outlining the definitions and provide examples.

3. Research @ or #EverydaySexism

- What is the project?
- What examples do they give of modern sexism?
- Do you think sexism is still a problem today? Why?
- Do ALL women have the experience? Explain your answer? Explain!

4. Research examples of gender inequality within the UK in contemporary society.

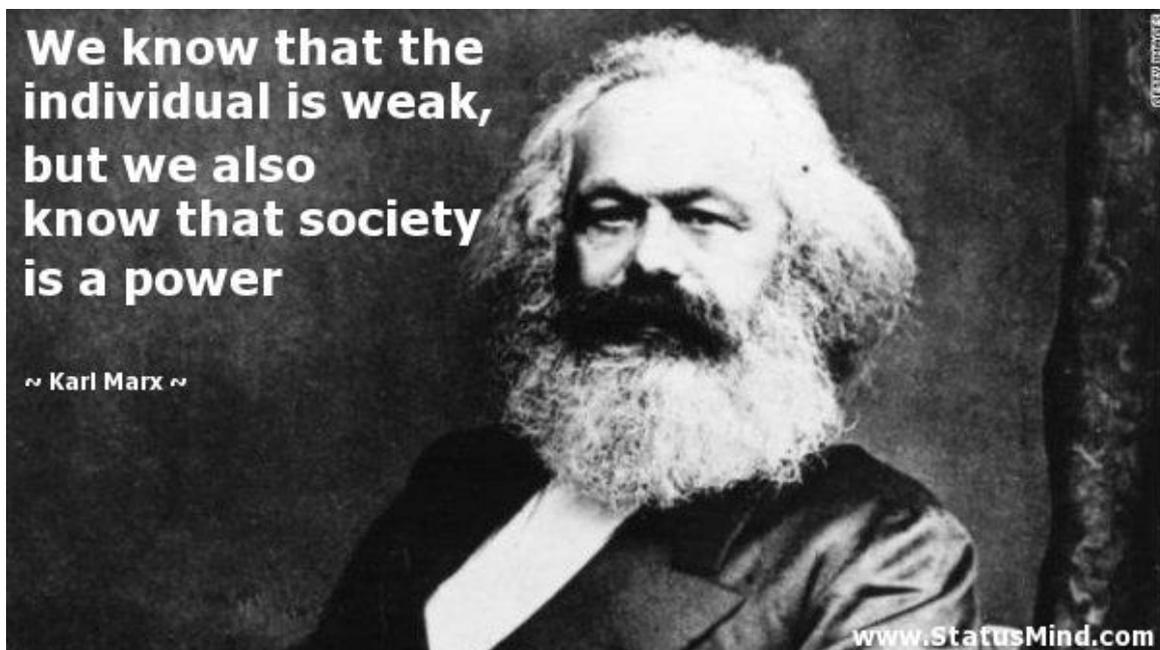

Task 3: Magnificent Marxists...

1. Watch YouTube clip:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Vz3eOb6Y1Is>

2. Define all key words on the video clip.
3. Research Marxism and produce a fact sheet outlining the difference between the bourgeoisie and the proletariat.
4. Research examples of class inequality within the UK in contemporary Society.
5. Choose one of the examples and explain how a Marxist would interpret the situation
6. How would a functionalist counter this approach?

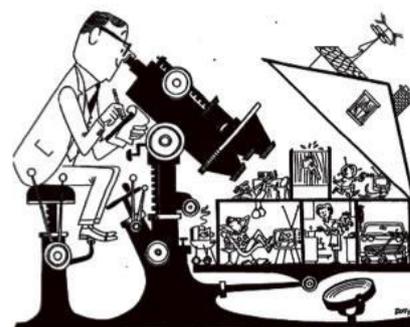

Task 4: Autonomous Social Action Theorist...

Functionalism	Feminism	Marxism

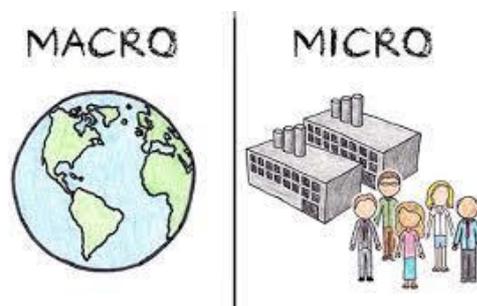

1. Complete a Summary table for your notes outlining each approach and stating whether they are:

- Consensus or Conflict Theories
- Macro or Micro Approaches
- Structural or Social Action

Ensure that you define which words in bold go with which theory! Add the strengths and weaknesses of each to the table too!

2. Watch the following you tube video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=yJrnwOPC2f8> Define Social Action Theorist approach to society.

3. Find examples of post-modern changes in society within the Media. For example Same Sex Marriages in the USA.

4. Do some further research on Functionalism

- Write a paragraph on the strengths on the theory
- Write another on the weaknesses of the theory

Useful Resources & Further Reading

To help you on your way...

It is also recommended that you take an active interest in the news and what is going on around you in the wider world as a lot of the concepts and ideas covered in lessons will relate to what is going on. The ability to be able to draw upon contemporary examples will also help illustrate your application and understanding skills which will be vital in order for you to achieve the higher grades in this subject.

For your first lesson... We expect you to have the following:

- A level arched folder – labelled with your name on and Sociology (spelt correctly).
- There must be dividers in your folder – plastic ones are better as they are tougher.
- Your own lined paper • Plenty of plastic wallets. • A pencil case with the usual but we use a lot of post-it notes and highlighters so have plenty of those.
- Your task homework contained in this booklet.

Well done! You're all set ready to embark on your Sociology A Level course. We look forward to seeing you in September!
